Senior, Central Washington University

My name is Giorgia D'Aniello, I am enrolled in the Construction Management Program at Central Washington University. I am the treasurer of the AGC Student Chapter, a member of the MCA Student Chapter, and a founder of the Women in Construction Club at CWU.

When I started at Central Washington University, I did not know right away that the Construction Management program was the path I was going to choose, but once I found out about the program I knew I wanted to be part of it. As a sophomore, I joined the Reno Competition team as an alternate and that experience solidified my passion for this field.

In the summer of 2019, between my Sophomore and Junior years, I interned with PCL Construction where I worked on a 24-story senior living facility. This summer I am working with Absher Construction where I have been on two projects, an 18-story Marriott Hotel and an 8-story apartment building.

Upon graduation, I hope to be working for a general contractor as a field engineer and work my way up in the same company. In my free time, I enjoy traveling, camping, skiing, good company, and good food!
